Opening

Opposite, top: The entrance to Wesleyan's campus. Below: Early morning fog outside the Administration Building. Above: The old Wesleyan greeting sign, which was replaced with the one in existence today.

"Buckhannon is almost an ideal location for an institution of learning. Hardly another town in West Virginia has a natural site equal in beauty and attractiveness. It is situated on the uplands about 1300 feet above sea level, near the center of the state, and railroads are already being built to almost every section of the state. The town is healthful, well supplied with churches, has never had a liquor saloon, and is probably as nearly free from evil influences as any town of its size in the country. The people are intelligent and hospitable, and are ready to extend a cordial welcome to students." West Virginia Conference Seminary Catalogue, 1890

The Seminary's main building was formally opened on September 3, 1890 amid a gathering of its President, the Rev. B.W. Hutchison, faculty, and enrolled students. The main building was used until it was destroyed by fire in February of 1905. The building was a total loss and was torn down, being replaced by the Lynch-Raines Administration Building in the Fall of 1905.

The second building on the Seminary's campus was the Ladies' Hall, built in 1895. Agnes Howard Hall is still in existence today as both a dorm and a National Historic Registry Building. The picture below is of the spring and smokestack, parts of Wesleyan's campus which no longer exist.

Wesley Chapel

Wesley Chapel was under consturction in 1967, completed not long after with the placing of the steeple. The Chapel is the center of campus in a number of ways, its steeple the highpoint seen from great distances.

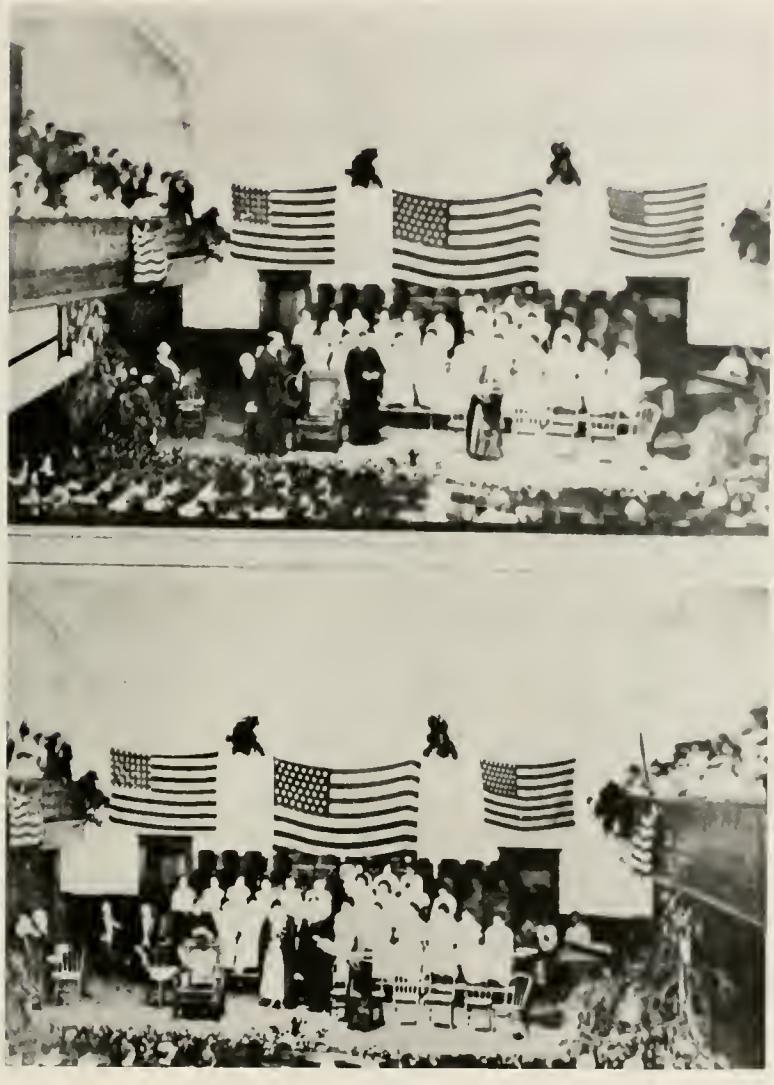
Traditions



The Commencement Exercises of 1918.

Freshman Orientation

Clockwise from right: Matt Trainer, Marc Campbell, and Cassie Shoup participate in the Baby Bottle Chug. Nearing the end to competition that is perhaps a little childish. The shorter version of the Egg Toss. This group appears to be slightly perplexed.

Founders Day Convocation

A Century Unmasked: Mardi Gras 1991

Homecoming 1990, the big Centennial, proved to be as big a hit as ever on the Wesleyan campus with the theme "A Century Unmasked: Mardi Gras." Much of the excitement from the students and Faculty celebrating Wesleyan's 100th Birthday was expressed as they cheered on our 100th Homecoming Queen, Melissa Bailey, a senior Psychology major from Wheeling, WV.

Homecoming Parade

Also starting out the 100th Wesleyan year was the Homecoming Parade. All of the parade's participants had excellent float ideas celebrating the Centennial: from the Sigma Theta Epsilon "tank" to the Alpha Delta Pi "Steaming Through Wesleyan's 100th Year Mardi Gras Style" float. First place Fraternity float was done by Theta Chi. Alpha Gamma Delta won first for their float in Sorority competition. Left: Theta Chi.

The Hanging of the Greens

The Hanging of the Greens has become a Wesleyan tradition since the Chapel was built in the late 1960s. Over the last 25 years, this tradition has grown in popularity and now ushers in the Christmas season on campus.

Above: Fraternities, Sororities, students, Faculty and Staff lend a hand to make the Greens, which are then hung in the Chapel.

Spring Sing 1991's theme: "Lights! Camera! Action!" brought a close to a week of Greek competition, otherwise known as Greek Week. Kendra Stemple was announced Queen of the Sing, setting the pace for an exciting evening. Senior Attendants were Beth Doleschal, Allison Mohan, Cindy O'Donnell, and Cynthia Shotter. Rebecca Hunter represented the Junior class, while Julie Hefner and Wendy Brock represented the Sophomore and Freshman classes respectively.

Lights! Camera! Action!

Fraternity competition placed Phi Sigma Phi first, Chi Phi second, and Theta Xi third overall. Phi Sigma Phi placed first again for their director, Dwight Brown. Theta Xi's director was second, Chi Phi's third. Alpha Gamma Delta placed first for both overall and best director, Belinda Smith. Zeta Tau Alpha placed second overall and third for director. Alpha Xi Delta's director placed second, but came in third overall.

Moments Gone By: Greeks of Yesteryear

In 1926 the Board of Trustees finally agreed that Fraternities and Sororities would be a favorful addition to Wesleyan. Two Sororities, Kappa Phi Omega and Sigma Delta Chi, and three Fraternities, Chi Alpha Tau, Alpha Gamma Phi, and Sigma Eta Delta were formed in 1927. The Sigum Tige House, Wesleyan's first Fraternity House, was the location of a Young Men's Christian Association, founded in 1914.

Greek Life

Kappa Phi Omega and Chi Alpha Tau, above, were the founding supports upon which Greek life was established at Wesleyan.

Greek life at Wesleyan encompasses much more than Rush and Fraternity parties — it nurtures unity, understanding, and commitment through its activities, both socially and internally. The values we learn through Greek life will carry us from the moments of our college days at Wesleyan to the years of our lives forevermore.

Closing

As I started to think about what I wanted to say in the Closing for the book, I realized that this was going to be the most difficult part ot the entire book. I asked for advice from friends, and the general response was: "Don't worry about it — it'll come to you." Well I have news for all of those people. It is not that easy. In many ways this is the most difficult part of the book, the part I have to work the hardest at. There are so many people to recognize and thank for their help, support, knowledge, and most importantly for their hard work throughout the year.

First I would like to thank the individual who decided that I would become the Editor for the 1991 Murmurmontis. Truthfully, this individual is not a person, but a series of events which left me at the helm of a ship that was sinking rather quickly. Originally there were supposed to co-editors, tri-editors, but that all went out the window — and there I was, all alone. As many of you may know, the last seven or eight of these books have not been produced in a rather timely fashion. This is the atmosphere into which I walked rather blindly. My first goal was to get this book out as much on schedule as I possible could. This was definitely not easy. My staff was relatively inexperienced, and my knowledge of being the Editor of a college yearbook was not that great either. Somehow we made it through the year without jumping ship completely, although there were plenty of times when we would all have liked to. Anyhow, we are all high and dry now and it all seems a bit funny in retrospect....

. . .First I would like to thank Ron and Doug Richardson, Taylor Publishing Company reps, for being there when I needed them, which was a great deal of the time. Without them this book would never have gotten done.

. . .I want to also thank my staff. You guys were the best. Maybe we'll have a workshop sometime and get some pizza---just kidding.

"Remember that the deadlines and your page amounts are subject to change...." I think the most important thing about this year's staff is that we worked well together and could usually get something done when we had workshops, except for getting our own staff picture taken. . . thank you all.

. . .I would like to thank all of the people who donated pictures for the book. Without you we would NEVER have gotten this book done.

. . .Finally, I would like to thank our adviser, Barbara Clowdus, who saved us all in our biggest emergencies and crises. Without you we would not have gotten page 1 done, let alone the whole book in a reasonable amount of time. With everything you have to do in your own job, you still found enough time to help us, me especially, get through this year. I am amazed at how ignorant I was in the beginning of September, and how much more I know now. I would never have gotten this far without you. I know there were times when you thought I had jumped off the ship, but I was just testing the water.

THANK YOU!!!!!!!!!!!!

. . .Last, but not least, I would like to thank all of my friends who helped me get through this year. You will never know how much you helped.

Congratulations to all of this year's graduating class, especially Mom.

Tricia Allen, 1990-91 Editor-in-Chief
